

Skilled Care Facilities

Aging

demographics have yielded a new approach to long term care for our elders. New design concepts seek to respond not only to the basic medicinal needs of seniors, but must also consider warmth, comfort, convenience, independence and compassion.

